

Please do not dilute the No-Call List law in Indiana. I finally have some peace in my home of an evening without having to answer annoying solicitation calls during dinner or while bathing my children and putting them to bed. There is just no need for rude callers to be on my phone. I never purchase anything from them (I never have wanted to encourage them) and as soon as I tell them "no" they often become rude and offensive.

Thank you for your time.
